

Yule Cards May Talk, Jump At You, Or Bite Your Finger

By Dorothy Roe
Associated Press Women's Editor

If a Christmas card bites you this year, don't be alarmed. It's just another indication of the whimsical ingenuity of the greeting card manufacturers.

About a billion Christmas cards are loading the U. S. mails, and of these at least a million are of the variety known as "novelty."

Some of these have a concealed spring device which raps the unwary recipient smartly on the thumb. Others emit flying paper butterflies, elves or santas. And still others play "Jingle Bells" or recite "Merry Christmas."

Now if the manufacturers could just invent a self-addressing and self-mailing card, it would be a Merry Christmas indeed for the millions of citizens at present toiling laboriously through the annual task of addressing, stamping and mailing.

They might also include in each box of cards a list of rules on greeting card etiquette, such as those worked out recently by one manufacturer, Alvin Barker, as follows:

1—When signing an informal card, the wife's name comes first, thus: "Mary and John Jones."
2—Do not combine printing and engraving in personalized cards.
3—Typed envelopes are bad form for greeting cards, as are addresses written in pencil. Cards should be addressed by hand, in ink.
4—Children should sign their cards simply with their full names and no prefix such as "Master" or "Miss." But when sending a card to a child, the address should carry the prefix "Mr.", or "Miss" or "Master."

5—Cards always should be sent by first class mail. If you can't afford a three-cent stamp, don't send a card.

6—Always include a return address, in case the card fails to reach its destination.

7—A brother and sister or a family may send out a joint card, but engaged couples always should send individual cards.

8—Christmas cards need not be acknowledged by the recipient.

9—Never send Christmas cards, even the solemn or religious kind to persons in mourning for less than three months.

10—A widow signs her cards "Mary Jones" or "Mrs. John Jones" but never "Mrs. Mary Jones."

11—Avoid highly glazed or gaudy cards which cannot be processed through regular postoffice machinery, as they cause increased delay and often get damaged.

Other bits of sage advice are: Mail early and address clearly—otherwise your cards may be among the 20 per cent that don't arrive in time for Christmas, or never get there at all.

Be sure stamps are glued on securely. Lots of them come off every year, because people are likely to be careless when stamping several hundred cards at one sitting.

Keep your address book up to date, and check your list of friends for changes of marital status and such. You don't want to send a "Mr. and Mrs." card to a recently divorced couple, for instance, or use the maiden name of a girl who has been married during the year.

And this time, for goodness' sake, put that Christmas card list away in a safe place where you can find it next year before the whole house is a shambles, your husband has retreated to the bowling alley and the children are hiding under the bed after your frantic search.

With less hysteria, Christmas should be merrier.

LIFE WITHOUT FATHER—The family of Maj. George Davis, leading jet ace in the Korean war, is ready for Christmas, with only a picture to stand-in for Dad. Seen in their home at Lubbock, Tex., are Mrs. Davis, wife of the famed flyer, and their two children, Mary Margaret, 7, and George, 19 months. Barkley Doubts Reds Talked Peace Because He Fired Upon Them

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—(AP)—Vice-President Barkley laughingly expressed doubt today that the Communists began to talk about peace in Korea because he started shooting at them.

The vice-president told reporters at the White House that he fired a shell at a Red position in the front lines of Korea shortly before the Communists began agreeing to some of the United Nations requirements for a cease fire.

He said with a chuckle, however, that he didn't want the impression to go out that his shell had anything to do with making the Reds consider quitting.

Two Senators See Foreign Aid Fund Cut

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Two Senate appropriations committee members predicted today Congress will cut down on foreign aid spending next year.

President Truman is reported to have been urged by some of his advisers to seek more than the $8,500,000,000 in international assistance funds he requested in the last budget. Congress actually voted only $7,483,000,000.

Senator Cordon (R-Ore) told a reporter he believed expenditures abroad can and will be cut below actual appropriations for 1951.

"We have got to continue to put up the money necessary to keep the western European defense program going," he said, "but there is no room for purely economic aid to those nations."

Senator Kilgore (D-Wy) said in a separate interview that he favors increasing the amount of economic aid in some cases, but added he doesn't believe Congress will approve as big an overall outlay as was voted for the current fiscal year ending next June 30.

Recently administration officials have indicated they hope to put more emphasis on efforts to build up western Europe's defense production capacity, so that more finished military items could be turned out there instead of being built in the United States.

Kilgore said he would support such a move. But he added that he thinks what is regarded as purely economic aid would strengthen some countries even more than direct military aid.

As an example, Kilgore said that money spent helping Spain develop water power resources would cut that country's imports of coal, strengthen it economically and leave that much more coal available for members of the North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO). Spain is not an NATO member.

The two senators' predictions of foreign aid fund reductions apparently echo a general note of disappointment on the part of lawmakers who have visited Europe with the progress of the western defense program.

Fire Chief F. Kelly of nearby Old Hickory set the loss at from $500,000 to one million. Men and equipment rushed from Nashville and four suburban fire departments battled the flames.

Dupontonia is about 10 miles from Nashville.

The blaze originated in a pool-room and leaped streets and alleys as it spread. Subfreezing temperatures hampered firefighters.

Their Sixth Annual Party...

Democrat-Capital Carriers Guests at Optimist Meeting

The sixth annual Christmas party given by the Optimist club and the Sedalia Democrat-Capital for the Democrat-Capital carrier boys was held Tuesday noon at the Bothwell hotel.

The meeting was opened by the president, Ed G. Ringen, who introduced Henry Salveter, George H. Trader, president of the Sedalia Democrat-Capital, and George H. Scruton, managing editor.

Invocation was given by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman after which the meeting was turned over to Paul Mines, circulation manager for the paper.

Mr. Mines made a short talk in which he told how in 1946 the Optimists decided they would like to have some guests for a Christmas party and one outstanding Optimist suggested the Democrat-Capital carrier boys. The party was such a success that the club made it an annual event.

Some of those boys are now in service and some are in civilian life, said Mr. Mines. As carrier boys, he pointed out, they are trained for future life in leadership, taking responsibility, becoming good citizens. They have to take the bad with the good, he said, such as the weather of the past few days.

Mr. Mines then introduced the carriers and told what routes they serve. The boys, as their names were called, went to the head table where they were presented with candy, apples and gifts. Giving out the gifts were Maurice Hogan, Harold Barrick, Clyde Swafford and Frank Mehl.

There were several groups of brothers and introduced also were two former carrier boys who are now in the navy. They are First Petty Officer Norman Logan and Fireman 1/c Bill DeHaven.

Silent tribute was also paid to Bill Harrison of Fortuna, for many years a Democrat carrier, who died during the past year.

Others from the Democrat-Capital introduced were Mrs. Mary Ott, Ray Haines, Darrell Bales and Bill Garrett of the circulation department and Miss Hazel Lang of the news department.

The meeting closed with the

That's why Stag Beer is so SMOOTH... so DRY!

not sweet... Stag—long ago—developed costly extra steps to eliminate unfermented sugar. There's no sweetness to hide true beer flavor.

not bitter... Stag's extra steps brew in smoothness—brew out bitterness. There's no unpleasant after taste—just true beer refreshment!

mellow + light... It's the extra-brewing that makes Stag so sparkling clear, so mellow and light—so satisfying, as a truly dry beer must be.

just right! Most folks agree that Stag tastes better than any other beer. Why don't you enjoy its can't-be-copied smooth dry flavor, too?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round New Administrations Feature Graft Cleanups

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

(Ed. Note — This is another of Drew Pearson's penetrating columns on the subject uppermost in the nation's mind — graft in the collection of income taxes.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 — Almost every administration when it first takes office uses a new broom when it comes to tax evasion. It cleans up at the expense of the administration which preceded it. Then it leans on the broom.

Part of this broom-cleaning, of course, is because the graft it would have to clean out later is its own graft, and the clean-up would hurt people in high places.

Thus, just as Roosevelt came into office, an important start was made toward a tax-fraud clean-up. Actually, it was started by Republican progressive Senators Blaine of Wisconsin and Brookhart of Iowa two months before Roosevelt was inaugurated, but continued by FDR with the prosecution of Alvin Karpis, the man who had been collecting taxes under Hoover and Coolidge; and of Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City bank. A total of $6,387,137 was also collected from Benedict Trees, the Pittsburgh oil millionaire, and public attention was called to the legal tax-dodging schemes of James Forrestal and various J. P. Morgan partners.

Today, Washington has the famed Mellon art gallery because the former secretary of the treasury realized he would have to win public support with a magnificent gesture if he were to escape criminal prosecution for tax evasion.

Morgenthau's Tax System

Following this tax clean-up, the Roosevelt administration settled down to a long period of reasonably honest tax-collecting. There were some tax cases fixed in Roosevelt's day — to be discussed in a later column. But eager-beaver Henry Morgenthau made such a squawk about them that even FDR was reluctant to arouse Henry's ire.

Furthermore, Morgenthau built up the most efficient tax-collecting system this country had ever seen. His counsel of internal revenue was Robert Jackson, who did such an outstanding job that he was later elevated to the supreme court while the chief of his intelligence unit was an incorruptible old tycoon named Elmer Irey.

In Jackson's old place, Truman appointed weak-kneed Charles Olin, recently a pathetic witness before the King committee; and in Irey's place he appointed W. H. Woolf, honest but not vigilant.

As commissioner of internal revenue, Truman appointed a mediocre named George Schoeneman, who previously had been mixed up in a matter which could not bear the light of day; while as deputy commissioner he appointed Dan Bolich, who, when he took the oath of office, received so many flowers that the swearing-in ceremony looked like a gangster's funeral. Obviously a lot of people were overjoyed that Bolich should be collecting taxes, and some of them later turned out to be gangsters.

All these appointments were made after Bob Hannegan, friend of the big-city bosses, took over the Democratic national committee and the political fortunes of Harry Truman.

When Hannegan was promoted from commissioner of internal revenue to national chairman, he appointed as his successor Joseph Numan, who had been collector in New York. Numan, in turn, retired Hugh McQuillen, forthright chief of the New York intelligence unit, replacing him with Dan Bolich. In this key spot Bolich had the power of tax life or death over big-shot gamblers, big business, or anyone else in New York.

Later, Numan stepped out to practice law, leaving behind him his friend Dan Bolich, who became deputy commissioner in Washington — the No. 2 spot for collecting the taxes of the entire nation.

Among Numan's clients, incidentally, were the night-club owners of New York, which includes the king of the gamblers, Frankie Costello.

At about this time, Harry Anslinger, narcotics commissioner, was watching Costello for possible connection with the dope racket, but, because of his limited staff, he had the help of 12 internal revenue agents. This was a natural cooperation, since both narcotics and revenue are under the treasury.

But suddenly Bolich demanded that the 12 revenue men be taken off the Costello assignment. Anslinger protested, but it did no good.

I had been following Costello for some time, and reported Bolich's lack of interest in Costello to Tom Clark, then attorney general, who promised to see that the agents were kept on Costello.

However, the justice department has not even moved to report Costello for perjury in connection with his naturalization; meanwhile Bolich played a part in delaying prosecution of one of the biggest gambling cases — the Guaranty Finance Company of California.

Shot Morale

Naturally, all this makes for discouragement among the many tax agents whose job it is to collect the nation's taxes. Backbone of the tax organization is the intelligence unit, made up of some of the highest type men in internal revenue. It is their job to detect fraud. These men are trained in the rules of evidence and know their business.

When they have finished an investigation, and when their recommendation for prosecution has been OK'd by the senior special agent and the special agent in charge of a division, it is almost inconceivable that they have recommended prosecution of an innocent man. Yet during the Truman administration about 60 per cent of the tax-fraud cases later have been quashed in one of three places:

1. The chief counsel's office under Charles Oliphant, now resigned.

2. The justice department's tax division, under Lamar Caudle, also resigned.

3. U. S. attorney's offices in different parts of the USA.

The details of how this has been done will be told in a subsequent column. But meanwhile discouragement and frustration has spread through the ranks of the many honest tax collectors and special agents as never before.

One agent in the field can collect about $80 for every dollar spent on his salary and expenses — one of the biggest untapped sources of revenue in the nation. Yet, thanks to politics and corruption at the top, we have started on the path of the tax-evading nations of Europe where failure to collect taxes is the first step toward inequality and eventually Communism.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Leroy Raines, 423 East Broadway, is erecting three modern frame bungalows on South Barrett, one on the southwest corner at 11th and the other two adjacent to the south.

John Van Dyne, a student at Kemper Military school at Boonville, was home for his Christmas vacation with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Heard, of West Broadway, left for Los Angeles, Calif., to spend the winter months and were to be at the Biltmore hotel.

The county court made an appropriation of $292 to pay off all indebtedness on the chapel erected at the county home. Mrs. H. C. Hutton was superintendent of the home.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Dr. W. J. Hawkins, president of the Warrensburg Normal, Edward Beatty, superintendent of city schools there, and M. O. O'Rear, superintendent of city schools in Booneville, were in the city conferring with County Superintendent T. R. Luckett on plans for the Central Missouri Teachers association meeting to be held in Warrensburg April 20-21.

Superintendent J. L. Walsh, of the M. K. & T., advised the city council by letter instructions had been issued to the train crews and members of the yard force to prevent blocking of crossings for any period that is not absolutely necessary.

Secretary M. V. Carroll, of the Sedalia Boosters' club, was in Springfield, Mo., at a meeting of the state immigration commission and to attend a meeting of the Sedalia-Springfield Highway association.

THE STORY: Alma Conway, designer for the Jewel Firm of Trumbull & Company, has learned that her husband, entrusted with a large sum of money by Trumbull's, had somehow lost or spent $2000 of the money while on a spree. Tommy begs Alma to help him make it up and so Alma decides to sell some of her discarded jewelry to a gold-buying firm. But while looking through the old trinkets she fails to find a pair of fancy cuff links she had once made for Tommy.

AT lunch time Alma Conway left Trumbull's a little after one o'clock and took her box of broken trinkets to the address she had so often heard over the radio.

It was a lovely day and Fifth Avenue was in its gayest mood, sparkling in the crisp sunshine as she walked downtown, drifting with the colorful crowds. Breathing the keen air made her feel stronger with that strange, electrical magic which New York at its best exerts.

But she was a trifle timid about what lay ahead of her. She had never been in a pawnshop in her life, nor had an errand which in any way approximated her present one. But, she told herself, it was ridiculous to feel any embarrassment. Thousands of people did this sort of thing every day, that was obvious. But the slightly apprehensive feeling had not left her when she reached her destination.

The Mammoth Gold-buying Company was situated in a rather grand old-fashioned office building, midway between the fashionable shopping center and the loft-buildings further to the west. It had a dingy look about the entrance and judging from the paucity of names on the directory-board, most of the original occupants had long since moved uptown to better quarters.

Alma found the room number she wanted without difficulty and stepped into the hand-worked elevator along with a man carrying a mound of unmounted fox skins, a shabby foreigner with a portfolio under one arm and a couple of flashy-looking gum-chewing girls, obviously returning from lunch.

At the tenth floor she got out and as the elevator door clanged shut behind her, stood looking around at the blank doors which confronted her on every side.

All of the offices in sight appeared to be unoccupied. The Mammoth people must, she thought, get a very cheap rental in such a place. She hoped that this did not mean they would haggle over price! But that was hardly likely to be true of a firm which year after year had bid in the Trumbull sweepings!

THE corridors ran from the elevators in such a way as to make it difficult to see at once in which direction the number she sought, lay. And then just as she was wondering which way to turn, the music coming from the radio down the hall to her left was interrupted by a familiar slogan. . .

"This program is coming to you through the courtesy of the Mammoth Gold-buying Company, the oldest establishment of its kind in New York City. . ."

The announcer's voice filled the echoing corridor with a strange predominance, and Alma followed the sound of it to the open door through which the sound was pouring. At the threshold she paused and looked in, faintly surprised to find no one there.

The radio, turned on full blast, seemed to have no listeners. The office itself was an ordinary one such as she had seen a dozen times, with a receptionist's desk behind a high counter shut off to the ceiling with a metal grille such as is common in any establishment where valuables are handled. Beyond were a couple of empty desks with work neatly stacked in piles, typewriters and filing cases, while the far wall was broken by two windows which looked out upon the dingy bricks of the adjoining building.

A door marked "Mr. Wheeler-Private" led to the inner room. Alma raised her voice in competition to the blaring radio.

"Hello, there!" she called. "Can I get a little service, please?"

There was no reply and after a few minutes of waiting Alma found a buzzer under the receptionist's window and pressed it vigorously. She could hear it ringing in the private office, but, although she kept her finger on it steadily for quite a while, there was no response.

Glancing at her watch, she began to grow impatient. Time was slipping by and she wanted to dispose of the things she had brought and get back to The House before she overstayed her lunch hour.

Obviously the receptionist here was overstaying her lunch hour, but it seemed incredible that a place of this sort would be left deserted with the front door open.

And that radio! Someone in the private office had in all probability turned it on to check the company's broadcast and was very likely sitting in there deaf to everything else! Well they'd better come to life and take care of her!

With an indignant shake of her wrist Alma tried the gate which led into the main office. To her surprise it opened at her touch. She walked through and rapped smartly on the inner door.

There was no reply and after a moment's hesitation she turned the knob. She could, she thought, apologize and explain her need for haste.

But there was no need for an apology. The room beyond was a scene of utter confusion.

Furniture had been overturned, papers were scattered everywhere and, on the floor, lay the body of an elderly man, his snowy hair stained by the dark pool of blood in which he lay.

British Word Encouraging On Nato Army

PARIS, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Encouraged by British support if not alliance, French officials expressed confidence today that they can stick together a six-country international army with one uniform, one budget and one command.

Two days of talks between French leaders and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill put new force behind France's drive for the European army.

In a joint communique, Churchill withheld Britain from joining the army he himself has advocated, but promised British troops will be "linked with those of the European community for training, supply and operations by land, sea and air."

Six-power talks among France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg begin in Paris Dec. 27. They will try to put the final touches on the army set-up.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces in Europe, including some British divisions, wants the paper work signed quickly so the proposed army can become the core of his ground defenses against any Russian aggression.

Chief and Judge Urge Caution On Yule Driving

Sedalians have been urged to exercise extreme caution in driving during the holiday season by Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors and Police Judge Jerry Trotter.

They give several reasons. Both warned against the hazardous driving with the present conditions. Chief Neighbors also warned drivers not to mix gasoline and alcohol. He urged those persons who did use alcoholic beverages to use another means of transportation rather than their own automobiles.

Neighbors said it was highly improbable that Mr. Millionth (accident victim) would be a Sedalian — but that it was possible and it is important to keep Christmas without a sad happening.

City Completes Paying for Park Meters This Week

Paul Alpert, Sedalia city collector, said the city had made final payment on the parking meters purchased in 1947 from the Dual Parking Meter company of Canton, Ohio.

The city purchased 750 meters at that time, costing $38,118.20. The first payment on the meters was made Feb. 28, 1947. Since then it has taken 57 monthly payments to complete the total.

The meters have paid for themselves since installation. Each month the city took out the first $300. Above that a percentage went to the Dual company. This amounted to large sums each month, except for one period when the lowest payment was $50, caused in a month of bad weather.

Alpert estimated that the meters would bring the city an average of $650 revenue each week, or an average of about $33,800 per year.

The Songs of Christmas

Now we come to the story of one of the great musical masterpieces of all time, George Frederick Handel's "The Messiah." It is doubtful if any single work of music has done more for mankind than this magnificent oratorio.

Aside from the sublimity of the music and its effect on man's spiritual side, it has been a great vehicle for charity. Literally it has "fed the hungry, clothed the naked, comforted the sorrowing."

Illustrated by Walt Scott

Handel, German born but English by adoption, was a genius and a controversial figure of his time. His career was a succession of failures and successes. In his hot-headed youth he fought a duel, disarming his opponent.

Hodges' Free Throw Gives Gremlins Win Over Smithton, 45-44

Sacred Heart's Gremlins came out on top of a hectic 45-44 cage contest with the Smithton Tigers Tuesday night in a game played on the S-H court. The win was the ninth of the season for Coach Palmer Nichols' crew — and by far the most important. The Gremlins have lost one.

Hodges Clinches Victory
Big Bill Hodges tied the game for the locals with a free throw with thirteen seconds remaining. The score was tied 42-42 during the game and the lead changed hands 13 times.

Besides scoring the game winning point, Hodges potted 16 more tallies and was the ace for the locals on the back boards. Jim Fall, the S-H left handed dandy, was second high scorer with 14 points, made 21 seven fielders.

The loss was the first for Smithton in Pettis-Benton County Activities association play. The Gremlins are tied for the PBCAA lead with LaMonte, neither team having a loop setback.

S-H Never Far Behind
During the contest, Sacred Heart never held a lead of more than four points and never trailed by more than two.

The Wagenknecht brothers, Bob and Delbert, were again the key players in the Smithton attack. Each contributed 16 points to the losing cause with seven field goals and two charity tosses each. DeWitt was third high for the Tigers with eight points.

At the end of the first period the Gremlins were in front 13-11 by virtue of Jim Labus' two free tosses in the closing seconds of play in that frame. Hodges dunked in seven points to top the locals and Delbert Wagenknecht chalked up six to lead Smithton in the first canto.

Smithton Knocks Score at Half
Smithton fought back to even the count at 26-26 at halftime. DeWitt's long one-hander from the side gave the Tigers the tie. It was Fall who kept the Sedalians in the running during this period as he hit four consecutive buckets. D. Wagenknecht, DeWitt and B. Wagenknecht led Smithton with six, five and four points respectively in this period.

In the low scoring second half the teams battled on even keel. Smithton often "stalled" and the game slowed to a snail's pace until the final three minutes.

Smithton Rally Falls Short
At that point Sacred Heart was in front 42-38. Smithton took the count at 44-42 at halftime. DeWitt's long one-hander from the side gave the Tigers the tie. It was Fall who kept the Sedalians in the running during this period as he hit four consecutive buckets. D. Wagenknecht, DeWitt and B. Wagenknecht led Smithton with six, five and four points respectively in this period.

B. Wagenknecht hit a hook for the Tigers to tie the score at 42-42 but Hodges came back for the Gremlins to tie a spinner to push the Gremlins back into a two point advantage, 44-42. Wagenknecht again evened the score with another hook — but then came the foul and Hodges' converted free throw.

In the volleyball tilt, the Sacred Heart girls rallied in the closing seconds to down the Smithton girls 27-24. Marlene Stimpfel topped the S-H attack with seven points and Hildebrand led Smithton with the same number.

In the final game of the evening, the Sacred Heart B team bowed to the Smithton Bears, 35-28. Robert Bennett was high for the losers with 15 points while Shroul led Smithton with 19.

AP Poll Shows Scribes Favor Platoon Game

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—(AP)—There's one thing sure about the two platoon system in football: you can stir up a good argument about it whether you're for it or against.

The Associated Press posted this question to sports writers and sports casters: "The two platoon system, with its attendant increases in the size of playing squads and coaching staffs, is being blamed for many of football's ills. Do you agree?" Of the 121 replies received in the year-end poll, 71 said they favored the system. Some thought it was good, others were more enthusiastic and called it a great thing for the game.

Fifty said they were against two platoons and their reactions ranged from a mild protest to a violent dissent.

Those who were for the system of alternating offensive and defensive teams listed the following reasons: 1—It gives more boys a chance to play. 2—It makes for more exciting football. 3—This is an era of specialists, why not in football? 4—It reduces the number of injuries in that fresh players are used.

The anti listed the following reasons: 1—The necessity for "deep" squads furthered recruiting and proselytizing. 2—It will force many schools, especially the smaller ones, to give up the game because of the cost. 3—It is too confusing for the spectator. 5—It completely takes the game out of the hands of the boys.

8 THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT — Sedalia, Mo., Wed., Dec. 19, 1951

Sporting Notes About Sedalia

Foster McGuire, former Knob Noster high school basketball star and later of the Central Business College Basketeers, has kept his reputation as a high scorer. Sticking to a business college team (now Chillicothe) big Foster racked-up 20 points in the Chillicothe Business College's 73-45 victory over the Kemper Military school's junior college team.

Playing with McGuire on the Chillicothe team is Red Murrell, all state basketball player in the Class B tourney. Murrell shaded McGuire for high point honors with 31 tallies.

Word from Springfield indicates that Coach Bob Vanatta's opinion of Warsaw's Jerry Lumpe is sky-high. Vanatta says Jerry is one of the brighter freshman prospects for the Southwest Missouri State Bears. Lumpe's roommate at Springfield is Norm Siebern of St. Louis. These two boys are close friends, being roommates during the summer as they played baseball for McAlester, Okla., in the Yankee organization.

Smith-Cotton's sharp shooting guard, Claude Murphy, has an excellent chance of hitting the 100 point mark for the season when the Tigers resume action Jan. 8 against Warrensburg Public H. In the games played thus far, Murphy has scored 85 points for an average of 14.17 points per game. Bill Cooper is second high on the Bengals' scoring list with 54 points.

Murphy's 85 points includes the MMA game, in which he scored only two free throws.

Smith-Cotton has won four of six games played this season, yet they have been outscored in total games by 262 to 261. This can't keep up because we've always heard that the team with the least points in basketball losses. In other words the Tigers have won the close games and their two losses were by 12 and 18 point margins.

Dressen Returns Inked Contract; Money No Worry

BROOKLYN, Dec. 19.—(AP)—If President Walter O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers were a whimsical man, he might get his baseball club managed next year for $25—or any other sum that comes to mind.

But chances are he'll shell out around $30,000 to Charley Dressen to provide the brain work for the Flatbushers' 1952 pennant effort.

Charley left the matter of salary entirely up to his boss in returning his signed contract yesterday from his California home. The one-year pact came to the Dodgers' office with Dressen's bold signature but with the salary line blank.

O'Malley can write that figure in himself.

"I am glad to return to Brooklyn—the best club in our league," Dressen wrote in a note to vice president E. J. (Buzzy) Bavasi.

Dressen, who saw his Dodgers blow a 13½ game lead and lose out to the New York Giants in a dramatic National League playoff, was actually rehired several weeks ago. But the contract was not formally signed.

Asked if Charley would get a raise, O'Malley said: "I can't imagine Charley would stress that point too strongly."

Terps to Stay In Conference Tatum Claims

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Coach Jim Tatum last night firmly brushed aside any report that Maryland would jump the Southern Conference.

"Maryland is in the conference and absolutely will remain there," Tatum declared. "The president of the conference saw fit to penalize us, but Maryland has never run when it is in the minority."

Now On Probation
Maryland and Clemson were put on a one year probation in football at last week's meeting of league delegates. They had accepted post-season bowl games against the announced policy of a majority of conference presidents.

They won't be allowed to play any conference teams next season. Rumors have repeatedly popped over since that Maryland would bolt the league in anger.

The Terps, who finished third in the Associated Press poll the past season, will clash with top ranking Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's day.

Tatum spoke last night at a banquet honoring the coaches and players of the undefeated team. It was sponsored by the Terrapin club composed of alumni.

Tatum said he and Dr. H. C. Byrd, university president, were agreed Maryland would stick with the conference.

The genial coach, who was presented with a new car (Cadillac) by the Terrapin club, said he had three more games lined up for next season. That would give the Terps a nine game schedule, since the league ban left them only six foes. Clemson is expected to fill one of the dates.

Soviet Kills 2 Spies, Says They're Yanks

MOSCOW, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The Soviet Supreme Court said today that two men with Russian-sounding names had been put to death as American saboteurs parachuted into Russia.

The announcement from the military collegium of the court said they were dropped into Russia from an American plane manned by American military officers.

Their names were given as A. I. Osmanov and E. K. Sarantsev. (Michael McDermott, State department press officer in Washington, said the State department knows nothing about the incident and said he never heard of two men with those names.)

(The Russians have accused the United States in the United Nations of using some of the Mutual Security Act's 100 million dollar appropriation to pay for treason in the Soviet bloc. The act provides funds to pay nationals of east Europe for helping western defense.)

The two were arrested in August shortly after dropping into Russia's Moldavian Republic, a small state of farms and light industries near the Romanian border, the Russians said.

Forged papers, guns, poison and large sums of money were found on them when they were picked up, the Soviet court reported.

Russia's story of the cloak-and-dagger incident said:

The spies confessed they were recruited from displaced persons camps in western Germany by American intelligence agents. They were given special training by American agents in map-making, use of firearms, parachute-jumping, organized sabotage and terror, and spying.

Investigation and trial brought out that Osmanov and Sarantsev were smuggled into Greece after being trained, and from there were flown in by American officers to the place where they parachuted onto Soviet territory.

Both were said to have testified at their trial that after carrying out their assignments they were to report to U.S. agents at Kars, Turkey.

The account gave no details on how the men were caught, when they were tried, nor when and how their death sentences were carried out.

Steal's Mom-in-Law's False Teeth While Sitting On Her

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—(AP)—A 35-year-old machinist was booked today on a grand larceny charge for stealing his mother-in-law's false teeth sitting on her, police said.

"That's one way of keeping her quiet," David Ritchie was quoted as telling detectives.

Ritchie was arrested last night on complaint of Mrs. Mary Wood. She said she lost her teeth during an argument with Ritchie.

Home He Built This Year and Yule Gifts In Ashes After Fire

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 19.—(AP)—The new home Karl Zentmeyer spent the last year building went up in smoke yesterday along with his two children's Christmas presents.

Zentmeyer, a plumber, had been working on the ranch type house in his spare time since November, 1950. Since last February he, his wife, their five-year-old daughter, Janet, and two-year-old son, Douglas, had been living in one finished wing with hopes of having a complete home by Christmas eve.

Yesterday morning a stove exploded and burned the house to the ground. Zentmeyer, his wife and two children managed to escape unscathed with only the clothing they were wearing—and a large order of perseverance.

"As long as I can work," said Zentmeyer, looking at the charred wreckage, "I'll make it all back again."

Truman Lets Word Out Not To Take Gifts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The word went out from the White House yesterday that President Truman won't like it if a federal employee takes a Christmas present—or any other kind of present—from anybody with an axe to grind with the government.

Mr. Truman made this known in an around the corner sort of way, without issuing any specific orders.

And the White House maintained its six day long silence on when the President will announce the drastic action he has promised to take his administration of any remaining wrongdoers.

Mr. Truman spoke out on the gift matter in a letter, made public yesterday, to Raymond H. Foley, federal housing administrator, who had told the President about his agency's own efforts to keep influence peddlers at arms length.

"I think the policy you have set out with respect to the acceptance of gifts by employees is a wise one, and I believe that this is the correct policy for all the government," the President told Foley.

The housing administrator informed Mr. Truman that he long ago issued a detailed list of practices which the people working for him must avoid, and followed it up this year with a pre-Christmas warning "even more specific" than in the past.

Employees are forbidden, he said, to take "any favor, gift, unusual loan or discount, gratuitous service, entertainment or any other thing of value" from anyone who could possibly expect an official favor.

Foley told his staff to make this policy known to anybody from whom they might be expecting a gift. If a gift comes anyway, said the administrator, send it back firmly but courteously.

He cautioned employees against accepting even an invitation to lunch without making sure "it will not result in embarrassment to the agency or to themselves."

In addition, each housing employee must file a monthly report of any non-government employment business activity or investments which could be questioned by anybody on the grounds of propriety. Foley said the agency has strengthened its "compliance staffs" to assure that his orders are carried out.

Pageant Given Washington PTA Audience

"The Spirit of Christmas," a pageant, was presented to the Washington school Parent Teachers' meeting Friday night, Dec. 11, in the school auditorium.

The Rev. Walter P. Arnold, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist church, gave the principal address of the evening. In his talk he stressed the importance of the child at Christmas and throughout the year.

Mrs. Ray Crosslin gave the devotional. Reports were given by the luncheon chairman, Mrs. Howard Gwinn, who reported that a new commercial range had been purchased for the lunch room and by Mrs. L. C. White, finance and budget chairman, who reported that a sum of $330 was cleared on the family fun night held Dec. 7.

It was announced that no Parent Teacher meeting would be held in January, but the Parent-Education class would meet Jan. 25.

Characters in the "Spirit of Christmas" were: Linda Momborg, Jo Ann Green, Theodore Phillips, Danny Burgener, Charles Crouch, Charles Fox, John Riley, Donald Harbit, Jerry Ward, Larry Walters, Connie Zimmerschied, John McFail, Marilyn Ditton, Carol Duff, Deanne Shutt, Dorothy Chamberlin and Jane Edwards.

The play was written and directed by Eugenia Arnold. Hazel Salmon was the accompanist.

Other personnel included Gwendolyn Tuck, John Daly, Wilma Knox, Minnie Van Horn, Mae Terrell, Zanie Medlock, Myrza Jones, Kathryn Spangler, Benny Sands, Jerry Hanerkratt, James Hurray, Richard Priesendorf, Bobby Botcher and Jimmy Gwinn.

Movie Board Picks 'A Place in the Sun' As Top Pic of 1952

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—(P)—The National Board of Review of Motion Pictures has picked "A Place in the Sun" as the best picture of 1951.

For the year's best acting, the board has selected Jan Sterling in "The Big Carnival" and Richard Baseheart in "Fourteen Hours."

The board announced its selections last night. "A Place in the Sun" was the film version (Paramount) of Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy." George Stevens directed it.

Stay Payment Of Back Interest On MoPac Bonds

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 19.—(P)—The U. S. court of appeals issued an order yesterday staying payment of about 35 million dollars in back interest on bonds of the bankrupt Missouri Pacific railroad company and a subsidiary.

The court also ordered a hearing Jan. 16 to determine whether the order should be made permanent. The order was obtained by three of the 15 directors of the bankrupt company.

A proposed reorganization plan to end the railroad's bankruptcy has been approved by the court of appeals but applications for a review by the U. S. supreme court have been filed. The proposed plan, drawn up by the interstate commerce commission, would wipe out all common stock.

In requesting the order, the three directors contended that any spare cash in the hands of the railroad's trustee, Guy A. Thompson, should be devoted to the repurchase of outstanding bonds on the open market.

Russell Dearmont, attorney for the trustee, said the only object of the appellants was to delay the proposed reorganization plan in the hope something "might come down" to aid them.

Payment of the 35 millions in back interest was authorized earlier this month by U. S. district judge George H. Moore.

One of Every Nine In Missouri Gets Old Age Pension

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 19.—(P)—About one of every nine persons living in Missouri receives old age assistance. The rate for the nation is one out of sixteen.

Keith M. Davis, a state representative to the Jackson county welfare board, says Missouri ranks fourteenth among the states in the number of persons receiving old age assistance in relation to the number of persons 65 years of age or older.

There are 426,000 persons in the state who are over 65, according to statistics compiled by the Missouri division of welfare.

Both in the state and in Jackson county there is a general downward trend in the number of persons receiving old age assistance, aid for dependent children, general relief and permanent or total disability assistance.

be 160 strong and include 150 German Shepherd police dogs imported from Japan and a mixed assortment of 10 other dogs. American military advisers now are training recruits for a full airborne battalion of 500 men. The paratroops will be attached to that battalion.

Chinese Nationals Charge Reds Have Killed 15 Millions

PARIS, Dec. 19.—(P)—Nationalist China accused Red China today of having murdered 15,672,050 people on the Chinese mainland in two years.

The charge was made in the 60 nation Social and Humanitarian committee of the assembly by Dr. Yu Tsune-Chi, who stated:

"We want the world to know and note the most flagrant violation of the right to life since the promulgation of the universal declaration of human rights."

Dr. Yu was speaking in reply to Ambassador Joseph Ullrich of Czechoslovakia who had complained that Communist China was not present despite its work for the observance of human rights.

Said Dr. Yu "To praise the observance of human rights on the part of the Chinese Communists is x x x to praise a cannibal as a faithful vegetarian."
